Management's discussion of fund performance

The fund's Class F-3 shares gained 2.19% for the year ended August 31, 2026. That result compares with a 2.59% gain for the Bloomberg U.S. Government/Credit (1-3 Year ex-BBB) Index. What factors influenced results

During the fund's fiscal year, the U.S. fixed income market posted modest returns, with credit spreads near the lower end of their 10-year range. The U.S. economy remained resilient, although a softening labor market prompted the U.S. Federal Reserve to implement three 25-basis-point rate cuts in 2025. After trading in a narrow range in 2025, U.S. Treasury yields moved gradually higher after the start of the Middle East conflict amid persistent inflation concerns and increased government borrowing.

Within the fund, an out-of-benchmark allocation to securitized debt was the key contributor to relative results for the period. In securitized, allocations to asset-backed securities (ABS) had the biggest impact as they had broadly positive returns. Agency mortgage-backed securities (MBS), non-agency MBS holdings and commercial MBS (CMBS) all contributed to results.

Duration and curve positioning weighed on returns, relative to the index. An underweight in investment-grade (BBB/Baa and above) corporates also detracted from returns.
