Management's discussion of fund performance

The fund's Class T shares gained 22.18% for the year ended March 31, 2026. That result compares with a 24.91% gain for the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) ex USA.

What factors influenced results

International equity markets delivered strong gains during the during the one-year period ended March 31, 2026, remaining resilient despite persistent trade tensions. However, momentum slowed late in the period as the Middle East conflict led to an energy crisis. Equities in the U.K. and Japan advanced but pulled back sharply in March. Chinese equities posted modest gains, while Indian stocks declined.

Within the fund, most sectors contributed to the portfolio, with information technology being the most additive. Returns from the financials, industrials and materials sectors were also positive. Conversely, holdings in the health care and consumer discretionary sectors saw negative results during the period.

Geographically, investments in companies based in Taiwan, Canada and South Korea contributed significantly to absolute returns. Shares of companies in Denmark, India and China posted negative overall returns.
