

Diversify with international

How Capital Group's active approach can enhance your international equity allocation

Unless otherwise noted, figures shown are as of 6/30/26. See page 4 for additional information and disclosures.

International is on the move. Are you ready?

International equities have seen very strong gains

In 2025, equity markets outside the U.S. posted their fourth-best calendar year since 1988, thanks to a combination of factors, including fiscal tailwinds and favorable currencies.

We've delivered better outcomes

We have international equity funds that have delivered index-beating results. We believe greater diversification, flexible positioning, deep research and a long-term orientation promote better outcomes.

Better outcomes through strong conviction

Figures shown are past results and are not predictive of results in future periods. Returns for mutual funds are based on Class A shares. Current and future results may be lower or higher than those shown. Prices and returns will vary, so investors may lose money. Investing for short periods makes losses more likely. Returns shown at maximum offering price (MOP) reflect deduction of the 5.75% maximum sales charge. Returns at net asset value (NAV) do not reflect a sales charge. If a sales charge had been deducted, the results would have been lower. For current information and month-end results, visit capitalgroup.com. ETF market price (MP) returns are determined using the official closing price of the fund's shares and do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times.

Our international equity funds have outpaced their indexes

Broaden your opportunity set

- International markets offer breadth that can complement U.S. allocations.
- Established international companies offer attractive income with a compelling risk profile.
- Foreign dividends can enhance total portfolio returns and provide diversification.

"We cast a wide net outside the U.S. to find exceptional investment opportunities — often by meeting management on their home turf. That boots-on-the-ground approach helps us uncover opportunities others might miss."

Nick Grace
Portfolio manager

Diversify at a discount

- Growth sectors abroad trade at steep discounts relative to U.S. peers.
- Valuations suggest upside for international stocks, which are discounted vs. U.S. equities.
- Dividend yields in Europe, Asia and emerging markets (EM) outpaced the U.S.

"Investing in established international companies that pay dividends allows us to participate in global growth while buffering volatility. Those dividend payers can act like an anchor in rough markets."

Steve Watson
Portfolio manager

International dividend yields sit near 20-year relative highs

Relative valuations by sector

(Forward P/E ratio, MSCI ACWI ex USA Index relative to the S&P 500 Index)

Sources: Capital Group, FactSet. Forward P/E represents the P/E multiple for the next fiscal year. Price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio: Stock price divided by earnings per share. Valuation: An estimate of a company's worth based on metrics including earnings, revenue or assets. Relative dividend yield and relative forward P/E ratios are calculated by dividing each valuation metric for the MSCI ACWI ex USA Index by the corresponding metric for the S&P 500 Index. Dividend yields are based on last 12 months.

Investment results assume all distributions are reinvested and reflect applicable fees and expenses. The expense ratios are as of each fund’s prospectus available at the time of publication. The indexes are unmanaged and therefore, have no expenses. Investors cannot directly invest in an index. There have been periods when the funds have lagged the indexes. When applicable, results reflect fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements, without which they would have been lower. Please see capitalgroup.com for more information. Past results are not predictive of results in future periods. This content, developed by Capital Group, home of American Funds, should not be used as a primary basis for investment decisions and is not intended to serve as impartial investment or fiduciary advice.

Capital Group exchange-traded funds (ETFs) are actively managed and do not seek to replicate a specific index. ETF shares are bought and sold through an exchange at the then current market price (MP), not net asset value (NAV), and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Shares may trade at a premium or discount to their NAV when traded on an exchange. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. There can be no guarantee that an active market for ETFs will develop or be maintained, or that the ETF’s listing will continue or remain unchanged.

Capital Group manages equity assets through three investment groups. These groups make investment and proxy voting decisions independently. Fixed income investment professionals provide fixed income research and investment management across the Capital organization; however, for securities with equity characteristics, they act solely on behalf of one of the three equity investment groups. Portfolios are managed, so holdings will change. Certain fixed income and/or cash and equivalents holdings may be held through mutual funds managed by the investment adviser or its affiliates that are not offered to the public.

ETF market price returns since inception are calculated using NAV for the period until market price became available (generally a few days after inception).

Class A shares were first offered on January 1, 1934. Class A share results prior to the date of first sale are hypothetical based on the results of the original share class of the fund without a sales charge, adjusted for typical estimated expenses. Please see capitalgroup.com for more information on specific expense adjustments and the actual dates of first sale.

Investing outside the United States involves risks, such as currency fluctuations, periods of illiquidity and price volatility. These risks may be heightened in connection with investments in developing countries. (Also applies to CGIC, CGIE, CGNG and CGXU).

All Capital Group trademarks mentioned are owned by The Capital Group Companies, Inc., an affiliated company or fund. All other company and product names mentioned are the property of their respective companies.

Nondiversified funds, CGIC, CGIE and CGNG have the ability to invest a larger percentage of assets in the securities of a smaller number of issuers than a diversified fund. As a result, poor results by a single issuer could adversely affect fund results more than if the fund were invested in a larger number of issuers. See the applicable prospectus for details.

The return of principal for bond portfolios and portfolios with significant underlying bond holdings is not guaranteed. Investments are subject to the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks associated with the underlying bond holdings.

Lower rated bonds are subject to greater fluctuations in value and risk of loss of income and principal than higher rated bonds.
