Figures shown are past results for Class A shares and are not predictive of results in future periods. Current and future results may be lower or higher than those shown. Prices and returns will vary, so investors may lose money. Investing for short periods makes losses more likely. If the 5.75% maximum Class A sales charge had been deducted, results would have been lower. For current information and month-end results, visit capitalgroup.com.

Global opportunities

The fund invests chiefly in multinational or global companies that have a meaningful share of their sales and operations outside their home countries. Some of the largest and most successful companies are based overseas, as of 9/30/25:

- 8 of the 10 largest mining companies
- 5 of the 10 largest electronic companies
- 5 of the 10 largest chemical companies

Company-by-company approach

The fund's portfolio managers focus on companies – not countries or regions. They rely on in-depth global research to find companies with sound management teams and sustainable competitive advantages. As of its fiscal year-end on 9/30/25, the fund's portfolio included investments in 269 companies based in 25 countries.

Consistent results

The fund's consistent long-term results over its lifetime have helped it rank first among the five funds in the fund's Global Lipper category.

Lifetime (since 3/13/73)	1 of 5
10 years	53 of 517
Five years	307 of 730

Flexibility is the new diversification

With its ability to identify companies that can benefit from long-term trends and market shifts, New Perspective Fund has been able to navigate and gain from changes in global trade patterns. The fund's global flexibility has been additive regardless of market environment – it has shown the ability to generate excess returns whether or not U.S. stocks or international equities were in favor.

Global flexibility remains a crucial consideration when constructing resilient portfolios. As market conditions fluctuate, country of domicile becomes an even less effective way to evaluate companies. Those seeking diverse global opportunities may want to consider a fund like NPF with flexible mandates that allow their managers to choose from the best companies – no matter where they are located.

U.S. versus non-U.S.: Three decades of consistent excess returns (%)
