Justin Brennan is a Senior Vice President and Investment Counselor for Capital Group Private Client Services. Justin works directly with high net worth individuals and families to create customized plans for protecting and growing their wealth, often across multiple generations. He also helps nonprofit foundations and endowments to pursue their long-term financial objectives through effective planning and investment management.

Prior to joining Capital, he spent more than 13 years as an institutional equities salesperson with Barclays, Sterne Agee and RBC Capital Markets. Justin has also spent time in management roles at technology startups TenFold Corporation and The Climate Corp. A native New Yorker, he is an honors graduate of Harvard University.

Justin is based in our San Francisco office.
